New heart of the Village

Works starts on Kidbrooke neighbourhood hub

by Dick Townsend-Smith

Can we fix it? Tenants pick up tips on DIY course - p4

LONGSTANDING residents and recent arrivals put on their hard hats to witness a 'ground-breaking ceremony' to mark the start of building work on the new Kidbrooke Village Centre.

The 'ground-breaking' last Tuesday (October 6) saw the traditional 'turning of the first sod' to mark the first day of construction on the village square which will be at the heart of the new neighbourhood.

The new village centre will involve the creation of 'The Square', which will feature shops, restaurants, community spaces and residential properties, all focused around a central piazza. The current Kidbrooke rail station is also being completely rebuilt to enable longer trains to stop.

Kidbrooke Village is one of the UK's largest regeneration schemes, and Berkeley Homes is transforming the area into one of the most desirable destinations in south east London. Eventually, it will consist of 4,800 new homes, 55 hectares of parkland and open spaces, along with a new school, health centre, shops, leisure, and community facilities.

One former resident at the ceremony was Cllr Danny Thorpe, the council's cabinet member for regeneration and transport. He had previously lived on Lebrun Square, part of the old Ferrier Estate, opposite Wingfield Primary School.

More lights for Sutcliffe Park at night

IF you live in the Kidbrooke/ Eltham area, you may be familiar with the wonderful Sutcliffe Park. It is everyone's beloved place to walk dogs or go for a run, have a picnic or walk down its peaceful pathways. However, by night Sutcliffe Park becomes extremely dark with only three street lights in the entire park. This is not enough to maintain a safe feeling and the locals living in the new sites of Kidbrooke Village are put at risk when returning from work or school in the evening.
This issue is much more pressing during autumn and winter due to the fact that it becomes dark much earlier - from about 6pm. It is crucial that something is done about this and that more lights are installed at least on the main pathways, which go across the park connecting the main road to the village. This will ensure the safety of the residents along a reliable shortcut to their homes through the park by foot at night time as much as during the day.

Stefana Apopei, Kidbrooke
● A council spokesperson said: "Sutcliffe Park is classified as a local nature reserve and there are no plans to install lighting as there are many nocturnal species which would be negatively affected. The park used to be locked at night but over the last few years there has been open access because of the development of Kidbrooke Village along one side and it has become a popular shortcut for residents. However, the paths in the park are not classed as public highway and the council has no obligation to light it at night. Externally around the park, there are good public pathways which are lit and offer safe walking routes at night."

Blue chip stores welcome

AS part of the Woolwich Arsenal and Crossrail development, we hope Marks and Spencer Simply Food or Waitrose will consider opening a new store along side the Sainsbury's local, which is to open on the development. The Crossrail station is expected to be extremely busy all week, which will be a major boost to the Woolwich town centre and the local economy.

Graham Justine, Blackheath

● A council spokesperson said: "We are delighted that the arrival of Crossrail to Woolwich and Abbey Wood will improve transport links, as well as contributing towards the transformation and regeneration of the area, all of which in turn supports job creation.

Our discussions with the developer and operators are on-going, and the council has a good track record of attracting strong brands to new developments. The Royal Borough of Greenwich will continue to work to ensure its ambitions are reflected in the business and retail space which form part of the new station."

Four-legged detectives warn about dangers of illegal tobacco

by Simon Banks

YOYO the dog has been busy at work sniffing out those guilty of selling illicit tobacco – it's all part of a South East London wide campaign designed to educate residents about the dangers of the products.

The royal borough has teamed up with five neighbouring boroughs (Southwark, Lambeth, Lewisham, Bromley and Bexley) in the new campaign to highlight the dangers of illegal tobacco.

Illegal tobacco is a billion pound trade in the UK with HMRC estimating that around one in ten cigarettes smoked in the UK is smuggled or counterfeit. A recent survey commissioned by the SE London network found that four in ten smokers had bought illegal tobacco in the last year. It suggests that in excess of 114 million illegal cigarettes, with a street value of over £22 million, are being sold each year across the six South East London boroughs.

And last week a two-day roadshow 'Keep It Out' came to Eltham and General Gordon Square, Woolwich, to highlight the dangers. Residents watched as sniffer dogs Yoyo, Scamp and Phoebe gave a detection demonstration, they could also receive free information about how to identify illegal tobacco products and the health dangers they pose, as well as details of how to report retailers who illegally distribute the products.

Cllr Denise Scott-McDonald, the council's cabinet member for community wellbeing and public health, said: "Smoking remains an important public health issue for us, and our campaigns in Greenwich have successfully reduced the level of smoking in the borough. This makes it all the more important for us to tackle illegal tobacco as readily available cheap tobacco, sold without restrictions, encourages young people to start smoking and discourages current smokers from quitting."

Cllr Jackie Smith, the council's cabinet member for community safety and environment, said: "It's time that we stamp out illegal tobacco for good. People might be lured in by the cheap price tag, but it's worth considering the great cost to your health, safety and community. Illegal tobacco supports other criminal activity and has many damaging effects on our local communities, as well as causing poor health."

Stuart Phillips, detection dog handler from BWY Canine, the company supplying the dogs, told GT: "We've used the dogs as a big part of engaging with the public and it's been very successful."

● Visit www.keep-it-out.co.uk or call the Citizens Advice Consumer Helpline on 03454 04 05 06.

● A trader was fined £1,000 with more than £2,000 costs after a sniffer dog found counterfeit Polish cigarettes in a disused printer behind a counter. The seized tobacco products were a serious fire risk to anyone buying and smoking them.

Only one person needed to change a light bulb

by Dick Townsend-Smith

MOVES are underway to provide training sessions for council tenants in DIY (do-it-yourself) for minor repairs and maintenance.

One-day courses are likely to include:

- plumbing, and what to do if there is a leak or a blocked sink
- carpentry, such as re-hanging or tightening cupboard doors and handles
- electrical, covering changing light bulbs, smoke alarm batteries and fuses
- decorating, including painting, tiling, sealants, and mould and damp cleansing and prevention.

Housing associations around the country run free courses for their tenants to receive training in these areas, and the council is planning a similar scheme in partnership with Greenwich Community College. The aim is to help people be confident about maintaining their homes, and cut the number of trades people being called in to carry out repairs.

A taster class for council tenants was held at the recently-opened Construction Skills Centre in Tudway Road, Kidbrooke, last Wednesday (October 7). Residents were able to get a feel for the course, and give their views on how it went.

One tenant taking part was Pauline Webb from Greenwich. She said: "I think the course is marvellous. I learned things this morning that I didn't know about. It sounds ridiculous but I didn't know the correct way to hold a screwdriver properly. I also wanted to know about plumbing and how to fix a leak, and the correct way to wire an electrical plug. It's definitely a good course to go on."

And Alison Cullen from Eltham said: "It went really well. Being sight impaired I was a bit concerned about going. But I picked up a few tips. I want to do classes in electrics and plumbing and they said they would get some large print leaflets for me. I learned a lot, it was really good and worthwhile."

Cllr Chris Kirby, the council's cabinet member for housing and human resources, said: "This scheme is all about helping our tenants to have the skills to do basic DIY jobs around the home confidently and efficiently. It looks like a winner all round."

He said: "Kidbrooke has undergone a massive transformation since I lived here and today represents a major milestone in its history as work begins on its new village centre.

"The council's vision for this part of the borough has already led to our delivering thousands of high-quality new homes in partnership with Berkeley Homes through the creation of a brand new 'village' - complete with reworked attractive open spaces and brand new community facilities.

"Thousands of jobs have also been created through this long term development and even more will be available now that the works have started. There is already a community in place here and these works will provide important new amenities as it continues to flourish."

Kidbrooke resident Ann Buchanan has lived on the site all her life. She said: "Berkeley Homes have undertaken a massive project here and I have been a big supporter of the vision they share with the council since the start. I'm thrilled to be here to witness the first spade going in the ground and can't wait to see the new fully built new village centre, which will be the heart of the community and open so many new opportunities for everyone in the area."

The Mayor of Royal Greenwich, Cllr Norman Adams, and the Mayoress, Serena Lovelace, have both lived in the area all of their lives and said they were delighted to take part in the ceremony.

Karl Whiteman, divisional managing director for Berkeley Homes, said: "Today is a fantastic moment for everyone who has worked so hard to create this new fantastic place. We are proud to have been involved in the regeneration project at Kidbrooke Village and to have worked in such close partnership with the Royal Borough of Greenwich. # Anti-social parkers face stiff penalties

THE royal borough is getting tough with people who park their cars and vans on the grass at council-owned land in Abbey Wood.

Notices warning that fixed penalty fines apply were put up last Wednesday (October 7) in Mottisfont Road and other nearby roads on the estate.

The move follows complaints from residents that vehicles are churning up the grass and stopping children from playing.

The notices warn that parking is not allowed, and anyone who does will get a £60 penalty. If that is not paid within 14 days, the penalty risks to £100. And if that is still not paid, drivers will be taken to court.

The 'no parking' action is being enforced by Wing Parking, a firm employed by the council. Cllr Chris Kirby, the council's cabinet member for housing and human resources, said: "This is a big issue for residents at Abbey Wood. Drivers are parking on the grassed communal areas outside the housing blocks, and people are getting fed up with it. It is anti-social, and the action the council is taking is sending a clear message that they face a stiff penalty if they ignore the signs."

ON PATROL: Rodney Lynch from Wing Parking checks vehicles are correctly parked

Four hundred new jobs at hotel

AROUND 400 jobs are being created at the prestigious new InterContinental London the O2 hotel on the Greenwich Peninsula.

Staff are being recruited through GLLab (Greenwich Local Labour and Business), the council-sponsored employment and training agency. The hotel is due to open by the end of this year, and 18 people have already been interviewed and offered jobs. GLLab is also working to recruit an additional 25 people to become apprentices.

A high proportion of people who have been applying for jobs at the 18-storey luxury hotel live locally.

The hotel, next to the O2, will have 453 guestrooms and suites, a luxury spa with indoor pool, restaurants and bars - including an all-day dining restaurant, a tea salon and a rooftop bar. There will also be a conference centre with a huge 3,100sq metre pillar-free ballroom which can take up to 3,000 guests, and 20 meeting rooms.

Cllr Danny Thorpe, the council's cabinet member for regeneration and transport, said: "We are committed to ensuring that development projects like InterContinental London generate work and training opportunities for local people."

Approval for multi-use sports centre

ON your marks - a new multi-sports venue for Kidbrooke has been given the go ahead.

Plans to create a new indoor sports centre were approved by the borough's Planning Board last Tuesday.

The aim is to enhance athletics facilities already at the site in Sutcliffe Park and provide a high quality centre offering a range of sports all year round.

It's proposed to replace the existing building with a new indoor centre built next to the outdoor athletics track in Sutcliffe Park. The new indoor centre will include:

- a six lane, 60 metre sprint track plus run off
  - full jumps provision (long, triple and high jump)
  - indoor throwing cage and netting accommodating for discus, hammer, javelin and shot put
  - a conditioning training weights area
  - indoor BMX/skatepark
  - indoor climbing hall
  - indoor space to be used by schools or groups to train and learn in
  - an outdoor covered area to support learning in the park nature reserve.
- The new building will also include a new café and outside eating, a children's play area and new toilets for park users - facilities the local community has been requesting for some time.

All activities and facilities at the new centre will be available for people with disabilities, something that the royal borough is committed to as part of its Olympic and Paralympic legacy, including using the new indoor track, throwing cage and conditioning room for training.

Sutcliffe Park is a nature reserve rich in wildlife and the new building complements its surroundings and adds to the environment. It will include a bio diverse roof and landscaping, along with new shrubs and trees to complement the ecological biodiversity of the park. Hedging will screen the car park and a new pond will be created on the north side of the building.

Cllr Miranda Williams, cabinet member for culture and creative industries, said: "This is a really exciting development which significantly adds to a list of leading sports facilities in the borough we're extremely proud of. We will be able to offer local people the chance to take part in athletics and adventure sports all year round in a brand new sports centre. We want to encourage as many local people as possible to take part in sports and this centre will offer a fantastic range of community sport and recreational facilities for the local area and beyond."

Be the voice of youth

Youth council calls for new reps

ELECTIONS are due to be held soon for Greenwich Young People's Council (GYPC), the group that gives a voice to young people and children so they can influence decision-making within the council.

Young people aged 11 – 19 (up to 25 for disabled young people) are being asked to come forward to stand as youth councillors. The results will be announced on November 24.

Being a youth councillor means representing other young people and making a difference in the community. Youth councillors get the opportunity to make new friends, develop skills and gain experience, receive free training, coaching and mentoring, and go on trips both inside and outside the borough.

by Dick Townsend-Smith

GYPC initiatives are designed to raise awareness and involve young people in politics, democracy and citizenship. They do this by producing an annual manifesto and delivering an action plan, which focuses on the key issues that affect the lives of young people in Royal Greenwich.

Every young person who attends a school or college in the borough or Greenwich Youth Services is eligible to stand in the election. Elected youth councillors are expected to commit around four hours per week. They serve a term of office for two years.

Outgoing GYPC member Sadia Balogun, 16, said: "GYPC is an important vessel in which the opinions of young people are carried to the people and places where change can happen. It allows for the collaboration of multiple young people and is an opportunity to gain important life skills, as well as be a positive influence in the community."

Support is available to help young people write their manifestos and plan their campaigns.

Senior participation officer Josh Harsant said: "Greenwich Young People's Council (GYPC) is a fantastic opportunity for any young person who wants to get involved in helping to make Greenwich an even greater place to live, learn and work. Throughout the year, GYPC meet senior decision-makers in the royal borough, put on events for young people to get their voices heard, and run campaigns to make changes that will have an impact on the lives of young people across Greenwich. We're offering support to all young people to write their manifestos and plan their campaigns – so get in touch today!"

Cllr John Fahy, the council's cabinet member for children's services, said: "It is important for the council to know what young people are thinking as we plan our services for the borough. If you think you can contribute by becoming a youth councillor, then why not give it a go?"

● If you are interested in standing as a youth councillor, would like your school to be involved or just want more information, visit www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/gypc or contact Josh Harsant by email at josh@participationpeople.com or check Greenwich YPC on Twitter or Facebook.

Talks of our town

YOUNG people are hosting debates on the issues that matter to them – and young people across the royal borough are invited to give their views.

The first in the series of monthly debates was held at the Woolwich Common youth hub last month with over 30 young people gathering to discuss the Syrian refugee crisis.

The free debating forums are being hosted by RevolYOUtion – a group of young people keen to improve their neighbourhoods and communities.

The group was developed by members from the Greenwich Young People's Council (see main story, left). They are holding the monthly forums to discuss social, cultural and political issues under the banner of the Rev Debates and will look at ways of raising awareness of the topics discussed.

The next forum is about Black History Month on October 28 from 6.30-8pm at Woolwich Common Youth Centre Block 2, Nightingale Vale.

Under starter's orders for dinner date

SIX time world snooker champion and local boy Steve Davis OBE is the guest speaker at a gala dinner in support of royal borough athletes.

The event is being hosted by Greenwich Starting Blocks – the trust which supports aspiring athletes by providing bursaries to cover the costs of training and competing.

The fundraising dinner is a highlight of the trust's event calendar and the invitation has gone out for the event at The O2 on November 12. Featuring special guest Sky Sports presenter and former Olympic gymnast Jacquie Beltrao, the evening starts with pre-dinner drinks at 7.15pm before a three-course dinner. It will feature information on previous and current athletes.

Starting Blocks was set up to support local athletes in their bid to make it to the 2012 London Olympics including Olympic silver medallist Gemma Gibbons. The trust has also backed Commonwealth Gold Medallists Zoe Smith and Tosin Oke and currently supports 78 young athletes.

Buying a ticket will help more Greenwich athletes to compete at all levels.

Peter Bunday, chair of Greenwich

Starting Blocks said: "We are tremendously proud that over the past seven years we have played a vital part in the development of young Greenwich athletes to perform at the highest levels of world sport. Athletes supported by Greenwich Starting Blocks have competed at Olympic and Paralympic Games, World and European Championships, Commonwealth Games and Youth Championships across the globe. The successes of these athletes are being used across the royal borough to now inspire the next generation of young people to succeed in their chosen sport."

He added: "We would like to thank all our generous contributors and sponsors who have provided essential funding to enable the scheme to develop. We look forward to seeing as many local businesses and individuals as possible at our forthcoming annual Gala Dinner so that we can introduce these talented athletes, celebrate their successes in 2015 and look forward to the 2016 Olympic and Paralympic Games in Rio."

● Tickets start from £85. To buy a ticket or a table of 10 please email starting.blocks@royalgreenwich.gov.uk or call 020 8921 5915. See p24 about Starting Blocks gymnast Ellis O'Reilly.

Local enterprises operate for community benefit

THE royal borough has an active and thriving third sector with estimates of at least 200 social enterprises operating in the borough. They include large well established organisations such as Better (formally Greenwich Leisure Limited) which operates sports and leisure centres across the country, as well as numerous smaller organisations operating in the charity and voluntary sectors. Many of them came together in Woolwich to mark Social Saturday, part of a national campaign led by Social Enterprise UK which raises awareness of just how easy it is to support businesses that invest their profits back into the community. Simon Banks finds out more...

SOcial enterprises came together to highlight the benefits of their work in the community as part of Social Saturday, an event hosted by the royal borough to support the social enterprise sector.

The event in General Gordon Square last Saturday (Oct 10) was designed to encourage people to 'buy social'. In doing so they support businesses which trade quality items and services and invest profits in projects supporting the local community, international development, the environment, charities and a wealth of other progressive schemes.

A social enterprise is a business that trades for a social and/or environmental purpose, with a clear sense of the difference it is trying to make, reinvesting profits into its work in society.

Local social enterprises turned out in their numbers, including Lucky Brakes, Threads, SmaRT Garage Services, the SEEDS service, Fresh Coats painting and decorating, the Made In Greenwich food production company, Coffee Ethic, Select18 film company and the New Leaf Community Café. There are over 200 social enterprises operating in the royal borough, placing them at the forefront of economic recovery and job creation.

Cllr Sizwe James, the council's cabinet member for business, employment and skills, said: "The council gives its backing to local businesses that work with the community and Social Saturday is an excellent vehicle to convey important information and bring awareness to the work these businesses are doing. The council remains committed to supporting social enterprises, as this sector is an important part of our anti-poverty strategy with 50 per cent of social enterprises employing at least one person facing additional barriers to employment."

THREADS by Lifeline, operates community sewing workshops across the borough and sells clothes and soft furnishings along with 'up-cycled' goods.

The project also offers training in a range of skills from retail and sales to sewing and window dressing. Workshops and placements are open to the whole community.

Manager Kuo-Chieh Liang said: "Community is at the heart of what we do at Threads by Lifeline. We support people recovering from drug and alcohol problems. We offer work experience and teach skills that are transferable – things like dealing with the public on a daily basis can do a world of good."

SmaRT Garage Services provided vehicle maintenance advice to the public and even ran a special discount MOT to celebrate Social Saturday.

The SmaRT garage service is supported by the First Step Trust (FST), a registered charity providing access to work experience, training and salaried employment for people with mental health problems and other disadvantages.

Ronnie Wilson MBE FST's chief executive said: "The Social Saturday campaign is about helping people the furthest away from the labour market to experience the positive benefits of working life. The Royal Borough of Greenwich has supported and encouraged us to be innovative and without their active support our progress would have been much slower."

Getting in gear

LUCKY Brakes Bike Workshop is based in Hare Street, Woolwich, and is run by the charity Lifeline, who work with individuals, families and communities both to prevent and reduce harm, to promote recovery, and to challenge the inequalities linked to alcohol and drug.

The community workshop offers repairs and servicing and gives new life to old or abandoned bikes by reconditioning them to sell on to the public. The project has been running for several months and provides training and work experience for anyone interested in bikes, allowing them to develop their skills. It has already employed one trainee as a part time mechanic. To coincide with Social Saturday, Lucky Brakes is offering 10% off all servicing and repairs during the month of October.

During last Saturday's event Lucky Brakes gave demonstrations on bike care and maintenance along with free support and advice. Manager Frank Whitney told GT: "Lucky Brakes acknowledges the bigger picture, it's not just about making money so that we can keep doing what we're doing. For us it's about giving back to the community by teaching people how to take care of their bikes through basic mechanics and skills that will benefit them in the future. Renovating and repairing abandoned bikes saves money and enables more people to enjoy the benefits of cycling. Not only does cycling help people to get around easier, it also has a positive impact on the environment and on the health and wellbeing of people who choose to cycle."

Films said: "Chocolate Films has been a very successful social enterprise for the last 14 years, and we are delighted to have helped rehabilitated adults affected by alcohol over three years so they are able to set up their own social enterprise. The community is at the core of what we do, it is rewarding to be able to help people learn new skills and those skills can help the community further."

HISTORY buffs can discover the story of Charlton House and explore its ornate décor when the Jacobean mansion opens its doors to the public on Sunday (October 18).

The house will be open between 10am and 4pm for free as part of the Horn Fair when heritage guardians revive a local tradition and invite visitors to take part in wide variety of events and activities on the day.

The Horn Fair, which began during the reign of King Henry III, traditionally takes place on October 18 in celebration of the Feast of St Luke's. The house will celebrate the day by opening its doors to allow the public free entry as well as providing entertainment for the whole family.

Visitors learn about the house under the expert guidance of master craftsman Philip Gaches and his team, meet master stonemasons and try their skills at the crafts that build Charlton House. Younger visitors are invited on an architectural treasure hunt, and can create their own one-of-a-kind gargoyle to take home and keep.

The Horn Fair will also see the launch of a new exhibition of postcards from the past and the curator will be on hand to demonstrate how these handwritten cards capture an intimate snapshot of a bygone era.

The event is being hosted by the Royal Greenwich Heritage Trust, a charity set up to bring the heritage of

HISTORIAN David Starkey, concert pianist James Rhodes and comedian Ruby Wax complete the programme of talking heads at Greenwich Theatre this autumn. Their appearances follow the sold-out success of Germaine Greer's The Disappearing Woman back in July. Rhodes talks about the battles from his troubled childhood, mixed with humour, searing honesty and inspiring piano performances on Saturday October 17; Starkey talks about the 800th anniversary of the Magna Carta on October 29; and Ruby gives an insightful and entertaining presentation about mental health with her Sane New World show on November 8. All talks are followed by a Q&A session. "This programme of talks shows that theatre buildings are special in bringing people together, not just for performances but also as places to share experiences," said James Haddrell, the theatre's artistic and executive director. # GreenwichHomes

Royal Borough of Greenwich's Choice Based Lettings Scheme

Edition 463

BIDDING FOR PROPERTIES

People on the Housing register are able to bid for all properties, regardless of their banding. You must be eligible for the size of property and bids will be considered in the following order:

First Band A, followed by Band B both in priority date order. Those in Band C will then be considered in registration date order.

Please note that there will still be some properties with age restrictions so only people of this age group can apply for these.

BAND

- A is for applicants in unsatisfactory housing, including people moving due to demolition and those underoccupying their homes.
- B is for applicants the Royal Borough of Greenwich must prioritise according to the law, particularly homeless people, and others with an urgent need to move for medical or welfare reasons.
- C is for all applicants on the housing register, including those that are in priority bands A and B.

How do I apply?

Get on the list

First, you've got to be on the housing waiting list to join the scheme. If you're not, register an application on line at www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk

Find your applicant number

It will be on the letter you've already had from the Royal Borough of Greenwich about the new scheme. You'll need that number and the reference number of the property you're after, which will be on the advert.

Pick out your ideal property

by looking in Greenwich Time or regularly checking the website:

www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/homes

Click on your preference on the website. If you don't have a computer, you can always use one for free at either The Eltham or Woolwich Centre or a local library.

Apply in one of three ways

- Text bidding is now available and the number to use is 07786207913. For further information please see page 2, or
- Phone the 24-hour hotline 020 8921 4340. It's an automatic push-button system and calls will be charged at the normal local rate, or
- Via the Royal Borough of Greenwich's website www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/homes

The next edition of GreenwichHomes will be available on Wednesday 21 October 2015 at midday. Closing date for all applications for this issue is midnight on Sunday 18 October 2015.

Families make tracks for hospice

OVER 90 people made tracks for Thamesmead's first ever 5k and Family One Mile race. Keen runners and fun-running families took part in the event on September 26 - raising £400 for the Greenwich and Bexley Hospice. 5k participants started in Crossway Park, while the Family One Mile saw parents, grandparents, children and grandchildren run two laps around Crossway Park, before crossing the finish line.

SECTION 48 PLANNING ACT 2008
REGULATION 4 INFRASTRUCTURE PLANNING
(APPLICATIONS: PRESCRIBED FORMS AND PROCEDURE)
REGULATIONS 2009
PROPOSED SILVERTOWN TUNNEL
NOTICE PUBLICISING A PROPOSED APPLICATION
FOR A DEVELOPMENT CONSENT ORDER

Transport for London (TfL) of Windsor House, 42-50 Victoria Street, London SW1H 0TL intends to make an application to the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government ('the proposed application') for a development consent order made under the Planning Act 2008 authorising the construction, operation and maintenance of a twin bore road tunnel beneath the river Thames known as the Silvertown Tunnel ('the project'). If constructed, the project would be located in the London Boroughs of Greenwich, Tower Hamlets and Newham and it would include the following elements:

- twin road tunnels approximately 1.4km long under the river Thames linking the A102 Blackwall Tunnel Approach on the Greenwich Peninsula to the A1020 Tidal Basin Roundabout in the Royal Docks area;
- a tunnel approach road on the north side of the river Thames to connect the new tunnels to the Tidal Basin Roundabout, which would be altered to create a new signal-controlled roundabout linking the A1020 Silvertown Way, Dock Road and the A1020 Lower Lea Crossing;
- widening of the A102 Blackwall Tunnel Approach on the south side of the river Thames to create new free-flow slip-road links to the Silvertown Tunnel;
- a new flyover to take southbound traffic exiting the Blackwall Tunnel over the northbound approach to the Silvertown Tunnel;
- replacement of the Boord Street footbridge over the A102 with a new pedestrian and cycle bridge;
- the introduction of road user charging for the Silvertown Tunnel and the Blackwall Tunnel;
- tunnel service buildings, plant rooms and ventilation buildings at each tunnel portal;
- modifications to the local road network including changes to Dock Road, Tunnel Avenue, Pavilion Way, Dreadnought Street and Boord Street; and
- works to facilitate the construction of the elements described above, including:
  - creation of construction sites and accesses from the public highway;
  - construction of a temporary jetty and associated works in the river Thames at Thames Wharf to be used for the import and export of materials from the construction sites;
  - provision of new utilities and services and diversion of existing utilities; and
  - provision of drainage, lighting, noise and visual screens, and hard and soft landscaping.

The proposed application will also seek authorisation for the compulsory acquisition of interests in and rights over land, the temporary use of land and the overriding of easements and other rights.

Consultation booklet
TfL is consulting on the proposed application and has prepared a booklet summarising the project. The consultation booklet is available between 5 October and 29 November 2015 as follows:

1. to view on the project website (www.tfl.gov.uk/silvertown-tunnel);
2. to take away free of charge from the inspection locations and the Roadshow events listed below;
3. to take away free of charge from libraries and community centres in the London Boroughs of Greenwich, Newham and Tower Hamlets, and additionally in Children's Centres in the Royal Borough of Greenwich, the Emirates Air Line Cable Car and the Siemens Crystal building. For more details please see the Silvertown Tunnel Statement of Community Consultation (available to view on the project website) or contact TfL using the contact details at the end of this notice; and
4. to order in hard copy from TfL using the contact details at the end of this notice.

Preliminary environmental information report and other consultation documents
The proposed project is 'EIA development' for the purposes of the Infrastructure Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 2009. TfL is therefore required to carry out an environmental impact assessment and submit an Environmental Statement with the proposed application containing information about the likely significant effects of the project on the environment. Information compiled so far about the project's likely significant environmental effects is set out for consultation in a Preliminary Environmental Information Report ('the PEIR').

The PEIR and other documents, plans and maps which detail the nature and location of the project ('the consultation documents') are available for inspection free of charge from 5 October to 29 November 2015:

- on the project website at www.tfl.gov.uk/silvertown-tunnel; and

The event was organised by Now's the Time, a three-year project designed to get people more active run in partnership by Trust Thamesmead, Gallions, Peabody, Bexley, the royal borough and Sport England, supported by Charlton Athletic Community Trust.

Wining family runners were Mohammed Taha and his wife, Hana, with seven-year-old Maria and 10-year-old Saleh. Mohammed said: "We have all had great fun today and to be the winners of the fun run is fantastic. We are very happy."

Now's the Time runs an affordable activity programme, which was developed in consultation with residents, and offers a range of sports and physical activities for just £1. It also supported the hospice's Big Bike Ride on October 4 by offering non-bike owners the chance to hire one of their bikes for just £1.

Cllr Miranda Williams, the royal borough's cabinet member for cultural and creative industries, said: "It's great that so many people were inspired to take part in this event, and to raise funds for an important local cause. I hope that experience of taking part will be a step in continuing to take part in regular physical activity."

Silver lady

Gymnast
Ellis heads for Olympics
qualifier

BEAM ME UP: Ellis performs at the Northern European Championships where she won silver on the beam

by Dick Townsend-Smith

THE O'Reilly family from Eltham is celebrating again after daughter Ellis won another major gymnastics medal to add to her glittering collection of trophies.

Ellis took silver in the individual beam final at this year's Northern European Gymnastics Championships held in Limerick, Ireland. She also picked up silver medals for the best all-round individual and team. The 17-year-old was representing Ireland, and helped the country's gymnasts secure their best ever medal haul.

Ellis is one of the many young people who have been backed by Greenwich Starting Blocks Trust which supports junior sportsmen and women. Launched by the royal borough, the Trust provides bursaries to cover the costs of travelling, training and competing so aspiring athletes can develop their talents.

Ellis, who is doing A-levels, trains six days a week at the Europa Gym Centre in Crayford. When she took her GCSE exams two years ago she sat them in Bulgaria, where she was competing.

The teenager took up gymnastics when she was just six, and has won the Irish championships two years running. She hails from a sporting family which includes sister Jenna, a successful boxer, who made it through to the Amateur Boxing Association finals, and brothers Reggie and Frank who are also boxers.

Her latest performance means she has qualified for this year's World Gymnastics Championships in Glasgow, which start on October 23, and is a trial event for next year's Olympics in Rio.

Mum Jackie said: "The family is very excited by the glittering career that Ellis is having. We think she is fantastic. She is very modest and we sometimes wish she would give herself more credit for what she does. She gets so exhausted so she doesn't celebrate. She also helped Ireland win the record haul of medals - she is doing really well."

● The Starting Blocks Trust is holding its annual fundraising dinner at The O2 on November 12. Guests include Sky Sports presenter and former gymnast Jacquie Beltrao and snooker champion Steve Davis. For more details see story 'Under starter's orders for dinner date' on page 9.
